

281 Gymleco Smith machine with weight

200 series Cable and Smith machines

This Gymleco counterweight machine provides a wider range of applications since the weight of the bar is only 2 kg. The bar is balanced by two counter weights, which are connected to the bar and run parallel to it. The machine is excellent for rehabilitation, beginner training and for those who do not have the strength to use the traditional smith machine. The bar is specially made to provide high stability without gaps. The lower beam can be removed for free seating of the bench.

We recommend that this article is bolted to the floor.
